

MYANMAR

Department of Research and Innovation (DRI), Ministry of Education

The Department of Research and Innovation (DRI), Ministry of Education Myanmar does not provide funding to applicants from Myanmar. Yet, the DRI encourages the participation of researchers from Myanmar in proposals submitted by consortia. Provided that applicants from Myanmar can guarantee that they have personnel which contribute their work effort in-kind to the projects. In these cases certain funding agencies from other countries participating in this call can support other costs such as travel etc. for Myanmar applicants according to the national regulations of these funders.

Myanmar applicants are advised to check with the respective national contact point the eligibility as to who may apply and how their participation can be financed before a consortium submits the complete application. Furthermore, it is recommended to Myanmar applicants to read the Myanmar call text at the following website <http://www.dri.gov.mm>
